

the Chairs, by the Sea II

-A Little Message from the Curator-

Two years ago in the summer, in August 2022, we held an exhibition on the same theme. As it was well received and which I personally would love to see again, I decided to hold an exhibition with the same title.

This exhibition will feature vintage furniture and artworks with a seaside or waterside theme as the previous exhibition.

Looking back, the August of two years ago when we held our last exhibition, due to the situation with COVID-19, and many people seemed somewhat felt guilty about going on vacation and spent the summer quietly.

When I try to remember those three extraordinary and strange years, there are so many things I can no longer recall that I think it must have been a dream, but even so, when I reminisce about the expressions on the face of those who came to the first "the Chairs, by the Sea" which seem to think of faraway places, the self-talking of a lovely madam who said "Aah, this is amazing." and the beauty that overwhelms my heart, I feel like I want to embrace the pleasure of being able to celebrate once again the things that people desire and the days when those things were lost.

The words "the Chairs, by the Sea" is literal meaning and, for me, it means "freedom and ease.
